

Philips Applied Technologies

Philips Applied Technologies is a dedicated contract R&D supplier. We contribute to the innovation and business success of our customers by developing high-tech products, applications and industrial systems. With over 1,000 technology professionals, we deliver product and process design as well as engineering services from concept phase to industrialization, including first-of-a-kind prototypes and testing.

Areas of expertise

- Mechatronics
- Remote handling and control
- Vacuum technology
- Metrology
- Robotics
- Industrial vision
- Signal processing
- Connectivity & security
- High speed data storage and streaming
- Real-time embedded hardware/software systems
- Materials and process technology

We offer

- Turnkey solutions and R&D support
- Over 60 technology competences
- NPI services and facilities (prototyping, pilot production and small series manufacturing, EMC test and cleanroom facilities)
- Industry consulting and industrial engineering

PHILIPS

www.apptech.philips.com